

Kitchen News

The latest launches and inspiration-packed events

COMPILED BY EMMA FOALE

INSPIRATION KNOCKS

Sometimes it's not easy to imagine what you'd like until you see it, so visiting a kitchen showroom is always a great idea. In addition to its Fulham showspace, Sola Kitchens has just opened up in Hampstead on Heath Street. Amongst a range of displays featuring Scandi-style furniture is the Frillen kitchen in green (shown) which has a fresh feel. Kitchens including installation are from £30,000. solakitchens.com.

Glazed Over

Inside, these handmade ceramic tableware pieces are glazed in a bright aqua shade, a delightful contrast to the dark brown glaze with graphite shimmer on the outside. The story behind them tells the tale of an artisan ceramicist in Jingdezhen, the ceramics capital of China. Prices start from £18. rouge-shop.co.uk.

Skinny LOVE

With a name that describes them down to a tee, the Wisp round side tables have a spindly appearance. They're hand-dyed and made using the finest Italian saddle leather and available in colours including Quince, Blackberry, Mushroom, Beet, Sage, Chilli and Truffle. We like that they stand on just three legs, making them intriguing to look at. They're £1,044 each. ochre.net.

LIGHT SHOW

The creative work of Bomma in collaboration with skilled glass blower Ota Svoboda, has resulted in these stunning organically hand-blown glass pendants. By experimenting with coating technologies they've designed and made lights that catch the eye from all angles. The Soap pendants (above) are from £275 each. hollowaysoftudlow.com.